

Cable & Cable Clamps

Weld-O-Flex Welding Cable

Weld-O-Flex welding cable is manufactured with 30 gauge fine stranded, soft drawn electrolytic copper for maximum conductivity. A super soft vinyl (not paper) sheath separates the copper from the outer sheath which is a nitrile rubber compound. This gives our cable super flexibility that will not kink even in cold weather. The outer sheath has excellent oil, water and abrasion resistance. Weld-O-Flex is rated at 600 volts & has an operating range of -30°F to 150°F. Every piece of Weld-O-Flex is sequentially marked by the foot, eliminating the need to measure the cable in the store.
